

Style

Since 1968, Aden Photography & Video Productions has been serving the greater Portland metro area. Over the years we have built a solid reputation for a professional, assertive and unobtrusive style that blends perfectly with your event. From international sales meetings to conventions, or political luncheons to company picnics, we can deliver the service that you expect. We are very detail-oriented and can tailor our services to fit your budget.

Someone Who Cares

Your choice of a photo or video professional is an important one. It reflects on your reputation as well as your company's reputation. We do not take that lightly! In fact, we put our good reputation on the line every time we take an assignment. And as a former purchasing manager for a national corporation, Keith also understands the needs of business. In short, it is our goal to make everyone look good!
