Theatre of the Mind Show

A veteran of the defense and high technology industries, Curt has developed a wide range of mental skills that seemingly defy explanation. Whether he works out difficult math problems in a flash, solves a sudoku puzzle in under two minutes, or determines which word among tens of thousands a participant visualizes, he shapes demonstrations that entertain your audience and challenge them to make the most of their own capabilities.

Curt's shows are perfect for conferences, sales meetings, and award dinners. His presentations directly involve 27 participants, so your audience gets to see their friends and co-workers in the spotlight! Most importantly, Curt treats his volunteers with respect. All of his humor comes from the moment — no one is ever made to look foolish.

"We are a group of engineers and, as such, are not easily impressed with 'magic of the mind.' Curt was not only magical, but very entertaining. I am still trying to figure out his tricks, but may just decide that it was truly magic!"

– Roz Craft,
Administrative Assistant, DWFritz Automation

Keynote Addresses

As an accomplished author, Curt is uniquely qualified to speak on using Excel as a business analysis tool. His other keynote address explores how individuals and groups can manage complex situations creatively.

"Curt is a great presenter with information that appeals to all levels of the group. His ability to motivate and inspire a group is highly recommended."

– Linda Ludwick,
Past President, Health Care Administrators Association
