EMA Video Productions Inc. is proud to be 25 years young and running strong. EMA is a full communications company offering everything from script writing to post production.

Our award winning programs have been broadcast on The Discovery Channel and Oregon Public Broadcasting. We have produced training and marketing projects for companies such as Fujitsu, Intel, Union Carbide, Freightliner, Good Samaritan Hospital, the US Forest Service, Oregon Ballet Theatre, and Oregon State University (to name a few). Under the leadership of award winning director Ed Mellnik, EMA has been able to serve the northwest with the very best talent and technology available.

If its worth doing the event, it is worth recording the content that is expressed there. Streaming events on the web can be a revenue builder using our pay-per-view option. Or live streaming can be open to larger audiences to experience.

Workshops, Seminars and Meetings can be recorded and streamed saving travel expenses and reducing carbon foot prints. Call us today about your event. It is never too early to start planning.
